

Meet our team...in Genesee, Idaho

The community of Genesee, Idaho is nestled in the hills and farmland of the Palouse just off Highway 95 between Lewiston and Moscow.

It's an agricultural community rich in history and filled with friendly residents dedicated to keeping it a vital but small town.

Our office, located in downtown Genesee, has seen some changes recently. Rollie Thomason joined our team in December bringing with him 18 years of experience in the insurance industry.

The office has also received a bit of a face lift in and out. We've reframed some historical photos, which we proudly display in the reception area. If you drive by, you'll notice our new awning. Come visit us to see what's new during Customer Appreciation Week, May 17-21. We'll have coffee and cookies ready for your visit! Or, join us for pizza on Wednesday, May 19 from 5 to 7 pm.

Our Genesee office may be in the middle of a farming community but we do more than specialize in farm and crop insurance. We are your one-stop insurance professionals. In addition to your agent, you have a team of professionals that has more combined experience than any other agency in the area. So if you're looking for commercial or personal insurance, farm, auto, life, health, give us a call! We are even available by appointment if normal business hours aren't convenient for you.

A Brief History

In 1950, Don and Kathryn Springer bought the agency in Genesee from Bill Burr and moved the office to the location we are in today.

Our very own Dave Baumgartner went to work for the Springers in 1982 and purchased the agency in 1987. In 2006, Dave and the Genesee office became part of the Stonebraker McQuary Insurance agency family.

Umbrella Insurance: How it Covers You

Lets start by dispensing with many of the myths surrounding umbrella liability coverage.

- It's just for the rich.
- It's too complicated to coordinate it with your existing insurance like your homeowners policy.
- The premiums are too expensive.

All of these myths are incorrect. Umbrella liability is relatively affordable, can be easily coordinated with your existing insurance policies and by no means is it just for the well-to-do. With the common occurrence of lawsuits, it is a must for every home, auto and watercraft owner. As many Americans are finding out, you don't have to be a millionaire to be sued like one. That is why Stonebraker McQuary Insurance offers an Umbrella Policy to supplement the basic liability coverage provided by our auto, home and boat policies.

An Umbrella Policy Provides:

Extra Liability Coverage beyond that provided in your underlying auto, home or boat policy. It broadens your coverage. If you are involved in a lawsuit, you have the security of an extra $1 million to $5 million in liability protection.

Get Peace of Mind Without a Large Added Cost

Our Umbrella Policy is inexpensive, especially when you consider the added coverage you get. Plus, our umbrella insurance covers your non-business activities anywhere in the world. No one should be without an Umbrella Policy!

Some examples of where umbrella coverage often comes into play:

- An auto accident in which you're sued under your auto insurance policy.
- Your neighbor slips and falls on your property, and you're sued under your homeowners insurance.
- A natural disaster in which another person's property is damaged by, say, a tree on your property crashing down on their vehicle or home. This usually falls into the, "I thought that was covered by my homeowners policy" category.

Your auto and homeowners policies have at least some liability insurance that would be used to settle legal claims. But what if a settlement (or judgment, if it goes to court) is $800,000 and you only have $300,000 of liability insurance? The insurer would pay its $300,000, but where are you going to get the other $500,000? Virtually everything you own would be fair game to pay off the debt. The only good news is that some states protect certain assets (like your home) from seizure.
